THE ELECTION FRAUD CASES.

The Inside of the Failure to Convict Hiegal Voters.

When the A. W. Va., March 23.—The United States district court, Judge Jackson presiding, has been engaged this week in trying parties indicted at the last term for violations of election laws cases. A good deal of interest has been excited, owing to the fact that with four exceptions, seventy odd indictments are all against Ropublicans, and cases are being prosecuted by District Attorney Watts, who refused to resign at President Harrison's request, and who said publicly if his resignation was demanded that those indicted parties might not be convicted.

that those indicted parties might not be convicied.

The Republicans claimed that the indictments were found for effect on the pending election. So far twenty-one cases have been disposed of embracing alleged illegal voters, and judges of election charged with knowingly beceiving lilegal votes, and parties accused of inducing the casting of illegal votes. Of these twenty-one cases, one pleaded guilty, the jury failed to agree in one case, two indictments were dismissed by the district attorney, and seventeen were acquitted.

ABOUT PRAYING

BY JOSEPH LONGISTRIC TOWNSHINGS by Joseph Longithus Townshing.
It don't all consist in praying,
I can tell you that for a fact;
Would you success
Both word and deed
Together must make the act,
For the man who at prayers will linger.
And don't know when he,
Will often find
That he's behind,
And his word too oft untrue.

Now, there's my brither Sarauel,
When he bends his linees in prayer,
Why, he must tell
Of all that's well.
Of all that's well.
Of lll, 'most everywhere,
And to make the Lord well posted.
He ends and begins again;
And long before
Sam's prayer is o'er.
I'm tired of saying "amen."

And there's my brother Henry,
Who is much inclined to shirk.
In all his tasks.
The Lord he nelts
To rustle and do his work.
But this I have often noticed
When strolling around his farmThe weeds still grow
Where Henry's nee
Wasn't moved by Henry's arm.

What, then, is the use of praying?
Why, much, for there's power in prayer:
God gives to all.
Who on Him call
The spirit to do and dare:
If they call on Him in reason
He furnishes power of thesephi;
And wisdom gives
Till knowledge lives
In more useful labors wrought.

So, I'm down on long petitions.
That wenty the heart and brain:
A word of grace
That suits the place
Will better answer gain,
For the Lord dou't rails the products
Of garden, and farm, and field.
Except the prayer
Is attened there.
And with brains and muscles scaled.

Count Herbert Bismarck on a Political Visit to England.

AMERICA WILL BECOME LEADER.

Ex-Gevernor Gray of New Zealand Gives His Views the Auckland Herald of Samoan Matters.

Haulis, March 23.—[Copyright 1889 by the New York Associated Press.]—Count Herbert Bismarck's visit to England following so closely upon that of Sir Edward Molet, British embassador, has given rise to all kinds of political speculation.

The rumors that England is about to join the triple alliance may, however, be dis-missed summarily, as may also the state-ments of the official press that the count is merely making a holiday visit.

AUXANCE FOR THE QUEEN'S VISIT.

Anaxon for the quies's visit.

The fact is the visit has a double effect, the most important of which is the arrangement of details for the Emperor's visit to Eigland during the coming summer, and ascertain the wishes of Queen Victoria as to whether her visit shall be merely of a domestic nature or shall assume a state character.

During the past week Count Blamarck has had a series of long interviews with the Emperor, in which the matter of his mulesty's visit was fully discussed.

WILL DISCUSS COLONIAL MATTERS

WILL DISCUSS COLONIAL MATTRES.

In the second place Count Herbert will take opportunity to discuss with Lord Salisbury the colonial matters affecting the two nations. It is not improbable that some kind of an agreement will be arrived at, embo lying the principles of the future colonial policy where British and German interests come in contact.

The Bosen Zelfang says that Count Herbert Hismarch will endeavor to bring the differing colonial views of England and Germany in harmony.

The Past to night an sources that the Somoa conference will be postponed probably until the beginning of May. This may be regarded as indicating a desire to await the outcome of Count Herbert's mission.

SALPE REPLYMANTES.

KNAPPE REPRIMANDED.

Bismarck's reprimmed of Dr. Knappe is much commented on. The Pressenties Zeitung says that Dr. Knappe was really driven into a state of furor consular true ting him as to the effect of noise-sary reprisals against rebels, who, he said, by attacking, had brought about a state of war. The science by the police authorities of the Volks Zeitung has created a great sensation and legal decision upon the right of the police to suppress papers, is awaited with considerable interest.
